FALLS UNDER WHEELS OF MOVING TRUCK

Accident Occurs On Savannah Road Late Thursday Afternoon

Hurled under a coal truck, owned and driven by Virgil Thompson, of 37 North Beaver street, Joseph Krajewski, aged 16 years, of 1580 Morris street, South New Castle Borough was fatally injured on the Savannah road late Thursday afternoon. Krajewski was a terribly crushed about the body, the rear wheel of a loaded two-ton coal truck passing over him. The accident happened at 4:40 Thursday afternoon and the injured youth died in the New Castle hospital at 7:35 last evening.

Boys Jump On Truck

According to the details of the accident as related to Coroner Potter and Corporal L. J. Lawton, of the state highway patrol, Krajewski, with six companions, youths about his own age, Mike Vincent, Joe Dudash, John Myrta, Joe Matthews, Tony Spaellich, and Walter Machrowich, were walking along the Savannah road, some distance this side of the Weinchen greenhouses, where Krajewski was employed, enroute towards New Castle. Thompson, who has been hauling coal from Hog Hollow, was coming along in the same direction.

As the truck neared them the boys halted the driver and asked for a ride in. Thompson slowed down, and the boys tried to board the truck, attempting to stand on the running board, which extends for only a few feet alongside the cab of the truck, on either side.

Falls Under Wheels

The other youths succeeded in getting aboard, as Thompson started to speed up the machine. Krajewski, (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW C OBSERVES

Automobile drivers who have not yet taken out their license plates will save fifty per cent by waiting now until August 1, according to B. N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor Club. On August 1, the Revenue Department of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania drops the rate from ten dollars to five dollars.

House wreckers are tearing down another of the landmarks on Mill street, the home occupied for many years by the late Col. J. S. DuShane, one of the pioneers of the city. It was a frame structure and is located between North and Falls streets.

Police should leave nothing undone to make an example of any person who is committing any acts of vandalism at the gardens being cultivated as relief aids in Cunningham park. According to report yesterday somebody destroyed a lot of the garden plants in that section. These vandals should be caught even if it necessary to station a guard at the garden plots at night.

Reports continue to reflect an increasingly better trend for industries in New Castle and vicinity. The "summer slump" has been forgotten for the present year, it is evident.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—A foreign policy based on the doctrine of "America first" was shaping up rapidly today as part of the "new deal".
Born of the attempt of the European nations to take advantage of this nation at the world economic conference, first by injecting the debt issue and then by attempting to force President Roosevelt's hand on stabilization, the new foreign policy was described in official quarters as designed to put an end to the international game of seeking concessions from the United States and giving little or nothing in return.

Laurel New Policy
President Roosevelt launched the new policy almost simultaneously on three fronts, monetary, trade and diplomatic.
He served notice on the economic conference he did not intend to risk the financial stability of this nation by linking up the dollar to the foreign currencies of Europe but intended to maintain a dollar that would be American. In other words, a dollar that always would have the same purchasing value in relation to American commodity prices.

He ordered full steam ahead in the improvement of trade relations with the nations of the American continent, especially Cuba, Mexico and Brazil, giving preference to the study and negotiation of reciprocal trade agreements with the countries of this hemisphere.

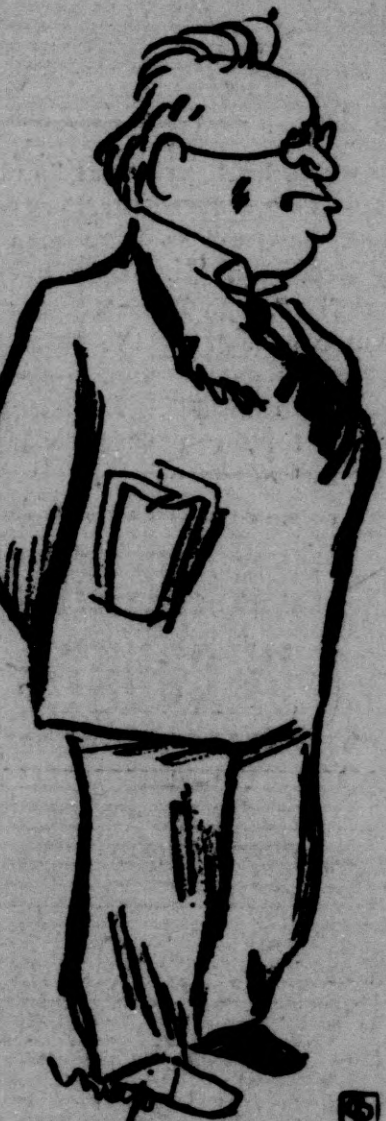

Two exceptions are likely in the European field, Russia and the Irish Free State. The former because of the vast trading possibilities and the latter because it is one of the few nations which has made good on its obligations to this nation and (Continued On Page Two)

Barn Is Burned On Alford Farm

Loss Of Several Thousand Dollars Sustained In Blaze Today

LIVESTOCK SAVED FROM DEATH IN FIRE

Fire, of unknown origin, starting about 9:30 this morning, destroyed a large barn on the F. Floyd Alford farm, county line road, with a loss of several thousand dollars.

While no known cause could be determined for the origin of the fire, it is possible that it may have started from spontaneous ignition, the barn having just been filled with the new hay crop.

Save Livestock
Neighbors who hastened to the scene of the fire were successful in getting all the livestock in the barn out. There was some farm machinery destroyed.

Mr. Alford was unable to determine what the exact loss would be, but stated that it would run around $2,500.

Assistance of the local fire department was asked and Fire Chief H. H. Shookman went to the height of a general alarm fire in West Lynn.

More than 100 volunteers joined firemen in pulling away heavy timbers and burning debris to rescue the trapped firemen.

Mrs. Blair's son, Fred, 33, an unidentified lodger, Fire Lieutenant Henry F. Hayden and Hoseman Eric J. Johnson were among those seriously injured.

The names of the latter were on the danger list at Lynn hospital, where eight of the 14 firemen were held for further treatment.

Postal Receipts Here Join Upward March In Last Three Months

Marching right in the front of the New Castle district's normalcy-bound industrial and business parade, the city's postal receipts for the closing quarter of the 1932-33 fiscal year, ending June 30, showed an increase of $2,022.77 over the figure reported for the same quarter of the 1931-32 period.
During the April-May-June period this year the office took in $32,375.89, while a year ago the receipts totaled $30,353.12.
Although Old Man Depression hovered around during the greater part of the 12 months period, figures announced today by Postmaster Lake S. MacNab clearly indicate that he finally recognized the strong hint to yamoose, and did it.
Year's Record.
Like at postoffices all over the country, the fiscal year from July 1, 1932, to June 30, 1933, brought perhaps the lowest receipts for many a year. In that period $142,160.19 was taken in, while during the 1931-32 period the gross receipts amounted to $141,992.35. The gain this year over last was $167.84.

TEXAS ESCAPES DAMAGE BY STORM

Tropical Storm Destroys Homes

No Fatalities Reported On Padre Island In Gulf Of Mexico As Storm Strikes

TEXAS BORDER NOT AFFECTED

(International News Service) BROWNSVILLE, Tex., July 7.—Every house on Padre Island, in the Gulf of Mexico, was demolished today from the force of a tropical hurricane which threatened this section for two days, according to meager dispatches received here. No fatalities were mentioned in the dispatches. After pounding the south Texas coast line, capping an oil tanker, and sending a tidal wave crashing over Padre and Brazos Islands, the hurricane was believed to have veered southward and to be spending its force over a bleak and uninhabited area in northern Mexico. The Texas border was unaffected by the storm and the rich Rio Grande valley citrus fruit and cotton area escaped damage. A 60-mile wind, however, continued to pound the Texas coast line early today.

The Anadir river extends from the gulf deep into the fastnesses of the province. Directly north of Chukchi lie the Bering Straits and the Arctic ocean, while the Bering sea, northernmost arm of the Pacific, laps its eastern shore. Mattern dropped from sight on June 14 after taking off from Khabarovsk for Nome, Alaska, on an attempted non-stop flight of 2,500 miles.

WORLD PARLEY IS MAKING PRETENSE AT CONTINUANCE

(Continued From Page One) there could be any major international disagreement. Ralph W. Morrison, American delegate from Texas, added an unexpected touch of color to a meeting of the economic commission and monetary committee on immediate measures, called to decide what subjects can still be discussed, when he said: "Unless the representatives of the gold standard nations radically change their attitude, I do not see how the conference can continue successfully. "Silent sabotage can not be tolerated. "In this atmosphere, even Secretary of State Hull's hope of keeping the conference tariff discussions alive went up in smoke when the French and other gold representatives refused to discuss either tariffs or quotas as long as monetary questions are barred. Marshall Ward has returned to his work here after spending a vacation with his parents at Lynn, Mass.

SUBPOENA IGNORED BY SECRETARY TO GOVERNOR PINCHOT

(Continued From Page One) obey a subpoena to appear before the committee for questioning on the subject," the committee asserted. Although McCallum refused to appear as a witness, he informed the investigators that the governor "will cheerfully supply" whatever information the committee wishes. Governor Pinchot cannot be forced to appear as a witness. Neither can McCallum or any member of the chief executive's staff under Attorney General William A. Schnader's interpretation of a supreme court ruling. The committee, however, took the stand that McCallum's actions indicted him and "it is not necessary to say or do anything more on this particular line." It will meet here again on July 19.

Approved List Instead of the list he previously admitted McCallum gave him, Dr. William D. Gordon, state secretary of banking, supplied the investigators with the names of 439 insurance agents and brokers approved by the administration. All these received a portion of the business attendant to the liquidation of 142 closed banks during the past two years. The bulk of the transactions, however, fell to a certain few. Twenty-five of the agents and brokers received $423,000 of the $480,000 spent for the protection of closed bank assets. The remaining $57,000 was distributed among the other approved agents. Other data submitted by Dr. Gordon disclosed that the operation of 142 closed banks during the two-year period resulted in a net profit of only $2,049,639. During that time the income aggregated $11,347,714 while expenditures were $9,298,075. Sixty banks showed a loss.

International News Service learned, despite efforts to conceal her movements, that she slipped quietly away from the American hospital last night less than half an hour after granting an exclusive interview to this correspondent. Although determined to keep her whereabouts secret, Mrs. Hutton could not resist in that interview given a hint of her plans when she said:

To Escape Reporters "I am very nervous and weak and underweight, and perhaps even before your interview is in print I'll be where nobody will find me—even newspaper reporters." Her daughter, Mrs. Roberta Smith; her nurse, Bernice Middleton; and Louis Meehan, a dapper courier also known as Meehan, accompanied the famous evangelist on her flight from the hospital to the sunny climes of the south. It was learned that for the past several days Mrs. Hutton had been taking short, secret automobile trips from the hospital and removing her possessions to a pension at Les Gilyones where her daughter has been stopping. The evangelist hopes to live quietly at Monte Carlo and along the Riviera for a time, and then plans to proceed to Lucerne, Switzerland.

BUSINESS PICKING UP BUT GOING TO DOGS

(International News Service) BOSTON, July 7.—Business in one line is picking up, even though it has gone to the dogs—and that's at the Animal Rescue League. According to Dr. Wesley A. There is an English setter in the big pack, a giant St. Bernard, mongrels galore, a brown chow, a gaunt-looking fox-terrier, a Great Dane pup and lots of other doggy doggies, who got themselves lost.

Upon the shoulders of these men largely rests the industrial future of the United States within the coming months. They are leaders of the group chosen by President Roosevelt to administer the provisions of his mammoth industrial recovery act. Gen. Hugh S. Eastman, most liberal member of the Interstate Commerce commission, is co-ordinator of railroads. Frederick C. George N. Peek is the new farm administrator.

Police brought the pair, Johnny Chatham and James C. Edwards, both 20, to Dubois jail today after they were taken into custody following the shooting of William Fraser, 19, at the camp. Fraser was shot over the heart but a rib deflected the slug and it was removed from under his arm. Police said Edwards fired at the man when Fraser questioned his nerve to shoot a man. If it is decided that the pair is under military jurisdiction they will be tried at a court martial.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

WHY DO YOU LIKE BRIDGE?
I'LL CONFESS if you will. I'll break down and tell you if you'll be honest, too.

In the first place, much nonsense is talked and written about bridge. It's a game that four people play with 52 cards, some brains, considerable luck, and much fun. Millions of people in this country play it. If you took all the millions of days that in the aggregate of their playing adds up to in the course of only one year; if you used all the thought that they give to playing their billions of hands, you could build Boulder dam, stop all floods, and run all of our railroads without labor cost. Honestly, you could! And a lot of good books would be read, every house in the land would be spick and span, no children would be neglected, people would go to bed earlier, every garden would be weeded.

The professionals say that you learn the laws of average, of card partners and distribution; that you get many fine lessons in self-control, in winning, in losing, and you improve your mind by playing bridge. Perhaps you do, but what do you improve it for? I can answer that question—improve it for playing more bridge. For practically nothing else.

So bridge is a great expense of time and energy and emotion (I don't say it's a waste; I say it's an expense), and bridge players can be roughly divided into casual players (who play for fun and don't count), "nuts" and "fiends."

My own ranking is somewhere between the "nut" and the "fiend."

Which means that I keep at least one brain cell functioning and am ashamed to play as much as I'd like. I want to know all the rules, all the "conventions," all the facts that can be known about bidding and playing a hand of bridge. . . . But why do I play and why do you play? (Here comes the confession.)

I play because I like to WIN, and no other reason is as powerful as that. . . . When I lose, I'm depressed, and I try to hide it, but I AM depressed. When I win, or make a difficult little slam or a grand slam (which means a mighty bonus in points), I'm bumptious, I'm joyous, I'm glad to be alive. Nothing annoys me then; I can be philosophical about any little trouble. . . . My vanity is tickled and stimulated. I'm the cat that swallowed the canary.

All over a mere game of cards. . . . I could read a good book, take a nice ride in the country, work hard at some useful occupation and thus do something worth while, but I would get the kick out of it. . . . I'm the cat that swallowed the canary.

We always did admire the Pennsylvania state policemen and the system they work on. Then an officer piloted the cortege right to Oak Park cemetery. It was a nice job and those officers do many just like it everyday in the year.

Business Gaining Impetus As Johnson Goes Into Action

Country Studies Details Of Industrial Recovery Act And Expresses Confidence That Wage Problems And Consumers' Needs Will Be Answered

Countrywide discussion of the Industrial Recovery Act is accompanied by reports of improved business conditions, while strong hope is held that in the coming arrangements with the federal government, adequate provisions will be made for jobs and living wages, and that the interests of consumers will be protected. There is much confidence in the ability of Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, director of the work, and hope that his organization will reveal similar capacity.

"It is evident that Gen. Johnson is endeavoring to do the specific job of placing more men on payrolls and making total wage payments keep pace with rise in prices," says the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION. Noting that "the new plan is getting under way," the CONNELLVILLE COURIER thinks that "by early fall we shall begin to feel its effects, and we will be better able to forecast what they will be." The CHICAGO JOURNAL OF COMMERCE advises: "If General Johnson will not try to impose too much the will of his director, we are sure that business men and industrialists can be of immense assistance to him and to whatever progressive age it is the aim of the Recovery Act to create."

Praise is given by the ASBURY PARK EVENING PRESS for "the simple theory that such a gigantic and complex structure as our industrial system will work more smoothly and efficiently in this economic emergency under one head rather than under thousands of heads, each working against the other."

"It is clear that economic recovery is at least under way," says the ATLANTA JOURNAL, recording that "the renewal of courage, confidence and enterprise dates definitely from March 4." The SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS agrees that "facts and figures lately gathered from various authoritative sources indicate a sturdy, spontaneous trend toward industrial recovery" and that "the development is countrywide and shows signs of becoming permanent."

CONRAD NAGEL DENIES RUMORS ABOUT DIVORCE

(International News Service)
GREENWICH, Conn., July 7.—
Preparing to leave for Hollywood Sunday after appearing at a local playhouse, Conrad Nagel, movie and stage actor, took occasion Thursday to deny rumors of divorce plans.

Nagel said he plans to bring his ture writer, and their daughter back East with him next month.

"If there were any divorce plans, we would know about them, but we

Davis May Delay Return Trip To Geneva Session

Ambassador -At-Large May Not Sail For Europe For Another Six Weeks

FURTHER WARNING GIVEN EUROPEANS

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 7.—Norman
H. Davis, America's roving ambassador, may not return to Europe to participate in the informal disarmament conversations planned between now and the next meeting of the disarmament conference in September, it was officially stated today at the state department.

A high department official announced it was possible Davis would not sail for six weeks or so. He explained this government was uncertain as to whether the informal disarmament conversations would be sufficiently important for Davis to go back.

When the disarmament conference adjourned several weeks ago, great emphasis was placed on the importance of these informal conversations. It was hoped that it would be possible to clear up the difficulties in these conversations which have prevented any successful achievements.

Warning To Europe.
The apparent decision of the president to shun these conversations was regarded here as a further warning to Europe that the United States, under the "new deal," intends to remain at home as long as foreign nations seek to obtain concessions from this country and give nothing in return.

Officials recalled the president offered more in the way of cooperation with the rest of the world to maintain peace at the last meeting of the disarmament conference than the United States has ever offered in its history, except after the world war, providing the other nations agreed to drastic disarmament.
It was still impossible to obtain any achievement at Geneva.

Despite the American offer to enter a consultative agreement, participate in an international commission to control armaments and abandon certain rights of neutrality, the European nations still balked at drastic disarmament and demanded additional security.

STAR-TELEGRAM, with the further belief that "movement of the trades associations and the various lines of business toward the perfection of agreements is an excellent step." The YOUNGSTOWN VIN-DICATION contends that as "the main purpose is the improvement of the workers' condition, labor cannot afford to make excessive demands at the beginning." The PHILADELPHIA PUBLIC LEDGER believes that "selfishness anywhere along the line might wreck the whole set-up."

Need of an adjustment of labor conditions, with increased employment is placed uppermost by the HOUSTON CHRONICLE, the CHARLESTON S. C. EVENING
POST, the CHARLOTTE OBSERV-ER, the MILWAUKEE JOURNAL and the UNIONTOWN HERALD.
The JERSEY CITY JOURNAL, believing that Gen. Johnson is aware of "complications in wage scales," adds that "there are mists and fogs obscuring the view of the new deal."

"Every day and almost every hour," according to the BALTIMORE SUN,
"some new subject of regulation is suggested, it opens up an ever-widening vista of regulatory problems." The OAKLAND TRIBUNE points out that "industry is to be put under a control, the full nature of which is not disclosed," a view which is held also by the INDIAN-APOLIS NEWS.

The LEXINGTON LEADER, however, predicts that "the efforts to completely coordinate all the thousands of big and little industries in this country will end in chaos," while the LINCOLN STATE JOUR-NAL sees "the whole country stumbling along." The PASADENA STAR-NEWS denounces "paternalism," and the RUTLAND HERALD offers the judgment: "Unless our present administration is far different from any other, it will hate to give up control that is once established. And unless reconstructed business finds this control more to its liking than can be expected, business will strive to get rid of it at the earliest opportunity. On these lines we may look forward to a sharp battle on which the future of government and of business may well depend."

"One tentative impression may be guardedly ventured," says the WALL STREET JOURNAL, "namely, that the recovery administration might make safer and ultimately more rapid progress by taking one step at a time rather than attempting to do everything at once. Thoroughgoing fundamental regulation of any basic industry, permeating it down to its end details, is not to be set up in a hurry; an effort to do so is likely to result in either a bureaucratic paralysis of the business or a mere imitation regulation."

The DES MOINES TRIBUNE
avers that General Johnson is "making an excellent beginning in the building of confidence in his own ability to handle a tremendous job well." To the SALT LAKE DES-ERET NEWS, "the quality of the man-power employed to carry the program into effect will largely determine its success," and the SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE finds
"reassurance in the indication by General Johnson of the type of men to serve with him."

Candidates Have Plenty Of Time To Secure Names

No Advantage In Being First
To File Nomination Papers For Office

Candidates who began securing signatures to their nomination papers yesterday have until August 15th to file their papers, but usually they try to get the papers filled out as soon as possible. Some may imagine that if they are first to file, they will get first place on the ballot,
but the place is determined by lot.
The names are placed in a hat and drawn out, the first one drawn getting first place and the others in the order of their drawing.

August 21 is the last day on which objections to candidates petitions can be filed. Candidates who wish to withdraw, can do so up until 4
p. m. on August 22nd.

The first registration day in third class cities, which includes New Castle, is on August 31. The second day September 5 and the third day September 16. Polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 12 noon; 1 p. m. to 6 p. m. and 7 p. m. to 10 p. m.
Eastern Standard Time.

For the November election register assessors in boroughs and townships will sit at polling places from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. and from 6 p. m.
until 9 p. m. On this date registering assessors can revise and correct original registrations, add names not registered, and strike from the list any fictitious names or names of persons who may have died or removed from the district, since the original registrations were made.

September 6th is the last day to be assessed to vote at the municipal election.

Sons Of Veterans Plan Action To Stir Membership

Also Plan For Annual Summer Picnic Outing

Meeting of Oscar L. Jackson Camp
No. 249, Sons of Union Veterans held last night in the city building hall of the organization was one of the most interesting held in some time.

Problems of vital importance to the membership were up for consideration and it was definitely decided upon a plan of action in which all members will be required to take an active part in advancing the interests of the camp. The plan also involves affiliated organizations and it is hoped that it will prove beneficial to the entire group.

George Partington, patriotic instructor and general chairman of the entertainment committee, was inspected to get in touch with the daughters of the Union Veterans in regard to the annual joint outing of the organizations and report back at the next regular meeting with regard to the possibility of holding a picnic this year.

dozen Detroit policemen in her pocket.

At first she told police she was disappeared in Cleveland recently.

Later she said she was Sally Peceny,

NO WONDER FOLKS JUMPED FROM BEDS

(International News Service)
SHENANDOAH, Ia.—No one in this farm district community is unfamiliar with a rooster's crow at dawn, but until recently that any of them had heard 11,000 roosters crow at once. Placed in cars for shipment to market, one of the chanteleers raised its voice to greet the day and most of the other 11,000 joined in with him.
The din brought many startled res-

Early Leaders Of Israel - Caleb

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Psalm 40:4—"Blessed is the man that maketh Jehovah his trust."

The International Uniform Lesson for July 9 is Numbers 13 and Joshua 14, the subject being "Caleb" and the Golden Text Psalm 40:4, "Blessed is the man that maketh Jehovah his trust."

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL
Someone has said, "The next step in human progress is always on the horizon of the impossible." Ten of the princes of the tribes sent to spy out the land of Canaan brought back a disheartening report about the promised land. They said, "We are not able to go up against the people; for they are stronger than we. And they brought up an evil report of the land which they had spied out unto the children of Israel. . . . And all the people we saw in it are men of great stature. . . . And we were in our own sight as grasshoppers, and so we were in their sight."

The Grasshopper Complex
But Caleb and Joshua had the courage to bring in a minority report. They answered the "We are not able" of the majority, smitten with an emphatic "We are well able." And Caleb stilled the people before Moses and said, "Let us go up at once and possess it; for we are well able to overcome it." They saw all the difficulties that terrified the majority, but they also saw Jehovah as their ally and this faith begot courage in their hearts to attempt what the majority regarded as impossible.

was stopped in Moses' day for 40 years as a nation succumbed to the paralysis of fear. It is not difficult for us to believe this story for we have been living it over again for the past four years.

No "Dead Line" To Faith
Caleb's courage as a spy at 40 years, inspiring as it was, is even exceeded by his courage at 85 when the tribes were settled in the land and Caleb, the aged, asked that there be assigned to him as his inheritance the hill-country of Hebron, the stronghold of the giants, the most difficult portion of the land. He asked no easy snap. He chose for himself no well-watered plains nor pitched his tent toward Sodom as Lot did. He selected for himself the most difficult field. He specialized in the impossible. And he made good in old age as well as in middle life.

For such a spirit there is no such thing as "the dead line." He could say, "Lo, I am this day fourscore and five years old. As yet I am as strong this day as I was in the day that Moses sent me: as my strength was then, even so is my strength now."

The explanation of this unflinching strength Moses gave when he said, "because thou hast wholly followed Jehovah my God."

Paul points us to the same secret saying, "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."

And we were in our own sight as grasshoppers, and so we were in their sight."

But the policy of fear inspired by the defeatists, struck terror into the hearts of the nation, "and they lifted up their voice and cried: and the people wept."

How infectious fear is! How paralyzing to a nation it is! Let the majority surrender to the policy "we are not able," "we are as grasshoppers in our own sight" and we have depression and stagnation today as then. Thus the clock of progress

Red Cross Flour Supply Is Gone

Present Supply Will Be Exhausted At End Of Week, Secretary Potter Finds

HAVE DISTRIBUTED ALMOST 150,000 SACKS

By the end of this week, the supply of Red Cross flour, furnished from government wheat to the Lawrence County Chapter, will be exhausted, Secretary Orville Potter reported today and no more will be available for distribution in Lawrence county.

In a little more than a year, the Lawrence County Chapter has distributed 140,000 sacks of flour thru a committee of relief workers, throughout the county, who have served the chapter without compensation in a most efficient manner. This has been one of the major tasks of the Chapter in the past year and the assistance rendered has been of great help to several thousand families in the county, whose wage earners were unemployed.

The flour was kept stored in the Carnegie Auditorium free use of the building having been given by the Carnegie Steel Company, during the unemployment emergency.

Charge Youths With Larceny

Arrests Results From Two Alleged Thefts At McConnell's Mills

Mose Warden, well-known colored man of McConnell's Mills, lost $30, and according to State Trooper Jack Bradbury and Constable Thomas O'Brien the money was found by Howard Urey of Fredonia, Mercer county. They claim he knew the money belonged to Warden, but failed to return it. He is charged with larceny and will be given a hearing here by Justice of the Peace James Brice.

Troopers McCune and Russo were sent to McConnell's Mills on another complaint, and two arrests resulted, one of the latter being a brother of Howard Urey. It is alleged that Kermit Harsh and John Urey, also of Fredonia, took $30 from a parked automobile. They also will be given a hearing on a charge of larceny by Justice Brice.

Old Properties Being Removed

Council today met in formal session and was informed that the buildings, condemned as hazards on a lot of the Independent Brewing company, First ward, are being removed.

The Tighman property, North Shenango street, another alleged hazard, also is being removed and the lot cleaned up.

Council passed a resolution ordering the city clerk to advertise for bids for the removal of John Fee's property, 1112 Dewey avenue and directed the health department and legal department inspectors to view a property at 438 County Line Street and next to the Mrs. Annie Williams property, County Line street. She complained that it is dilapidated and depreciates her property.

Dog Catcher Resigns Job

New Castle is without a dog catcher. Yes, sir, folk, Charles Settle, who has been making canines twirl their tails between rear legs as they scampered away, has quit.

And further, city council accepted the resignation he presented today. It is not yet known what the councilmen plan for protection from stray dogs.

Settle reported he killed 15 dogs and three cats last month and caught 10 dogs which owners reclaimed.

POLITICAL FIGHTS BANNED FOR TOURISTS

VIENNA—Political fights must be suspended during the tourist traffic season in Austria. So the government recently decided, and accordingly all mass meetings, demonstrations and wearing party uniforms were strictly forbidden. Nazis, Jews, Heimwehr and Socialists are all expected to cooperate to increase the "invisible trade" of the country. The authorities provide an outlet for energies in numerous music festivals, historic pageants and exhibitions.

FREE WHEAT FOR NEEDY

VIENNA—The Austrian government recently issued a decree authorizing the Minister of Finance to admit up to 8,000 metric tons of wheat free of import duty as a relief measure for needy farmers and the unemployed, according to Commercial Attaché Gardner Richardson.

FIND OLD STATUES AT PAPAL RESIDENCE

(International News Service) VATICAN CITY—Commendatore Nogara, Director General of the Vatican Museums and Galleries, has reported to the Pope of finding several ancient statues out at the papal summer residence at Castel Gandolfo.

They consist of a fine Greek Bacchante in marble, a nude man's figure in basalt of Greek workmanship, three statues of Greek athletes and fragments of a group of horses. Emperor Domitian built a villa there and the grounds have never before been excavated, so that Commendatore Nogara hopes to dig up many more examples of Greek sculpture.

THRILLER PLOT IS SOLVED BY AGENTS

(International News Service) COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—William Trimble and A. Salzman, federal prohibition agents, recently had a narrow escape from death when they raided a ranch house near here. Before entering the house they peered through a window and saw a .22 calibre pistol placed so that it would fire at the opening when the door was opened. They opened the door in a manner that enabled them to escape harm, then seized 55 gallons of whiskey, a still and some mash.

WRITING IS TRAP IN NUMBER RACKET

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH—John Matthews might have made a slight change in that old saying, "Don't write, and fear no woman," after his experience in Criminal court.

By erasing the first two letters from the last word, John could have aptly described his feelings when Judge Rowland found that numbers and initials he had written on a slip of paper compared with others found on some "number's racket" slips. Matthews changed his not guilty plea to guilty.

ROBBERY PREVENTED

Officer Fred Harlan, in making his rounds last night, discovered a window of the New Castle Grocery Company on Produce street broken. ## Stinging Blow To French Aims At Conference

By ARNO BOSCH-FLEUBOT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 7.—Delivering a stinging blow to French aims, the steering committee of the World Economic conference, today voted to continue all monetary discussions. The motion, proposed by Neville Chamberlain, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, was carried although France had demanded the side-tracking of all monetary questions, including the allied tariff issue, as long as the United States refused to discuss currency stabilization.

'WALKING PARSON' HAS CLERICAL BEAT

(International News Service) PORTLAND, Ore., July 7.—The Rev. Frank H. Neff, "walking parson of the beaches" has been assigned to his "beat" along the Oregon coast by the Evangelical conference.

The churches he serves are three miles apart, and, as his salary is too small to permit him to own a car, he walks between Taft and Delake winter and summer. During his last year in office he traveled more than 500 miles afoot.

There is never a deficit in the pastor's salary. At the end of the year, when the books are closed, if his salary is unpaid he writes it off and the church starts the new year without debt.

SCOTLAND PREACHER HAS 68-YEAR RECORD

(International News Service) ABERDEEN, Scotland, July 7.—A preacher for 68 years—ten of which were spent in the United States—is the record of the Reverend S. G. At the age of 91, Woodrow is still going strong, and although he retired from his church here 26 years ago, he still officiates for various denominations throughout North-East Scotland.

PAYS FINE FOR CAUSING TROUBLE

Rocco Peluso of 112 South Jefferson street called the police at 1:55 a. m. today, stating that there was a woman damaging his car.

She was then arrested and posted a $10 forfeit for her appearance, this morning. She was in police court and admitted striking Peluso, also to having done damage to his machine on a previous occasion. The mayor assessed her a fine of $5.

The C 57, Lieutenant Friedrich Wichmann commanding, was sent to Finnish waters just about a year before the war's end. Two other officers and a crew of 23 were on board when she sank. The cause of the loss has never been revealed.

ORCHESTRA MEMBERS TAKE SALARY CUTS

(International News Service) CINCINNATI, O.—Members of Cincinnati's famous Cincinnati Symphony orchestra have all taken substantial salary cuts to assure continued operations during the 1934 season. Only those orchestra members whose salary is now as low as the union standards will allow are not affected by the new payment agreement.

It is understood that the orchestra will have a budget of approximately $100,000 on which to operate during the 1934 season. Top salaried players of the orchestra were cut as much as 30 per cent.

WET WEATHER BIG AID FOR FARMERS IN INSECT FIGHT

(International News Service) LAS CRUCES, N. M.—The control of grasshopper outbreaks in the West is not a simple matter, according to E. D. Ball of the University of Arizona.

Climate, he said, was the most important factor. Grasshoppers do not thrive in wet weather, and a cold, wet spring is particularly destructive to the injurious species. On the other hand, hot dry weather will bring out the "hoppers" by the millions.

BAN STORE LIQUEUR

(International News Service) DETROIT—The new federal liquor prescription law will have no immediate effect in Michigan where a state law now limits the number of doctor's prescriptions filled and also prohibits filling of a prescription of more than eight ounces. # Applicants Swamp New York Aquarium For Healing Fluid

News Leaks Out That Curator Has Discovered Cure For Skin Disease

Thousands Jam Aquarium Seeking Relief; Curator Hides In Office

(International News Service) NEW YORK, July 7.—Employees and officials of the aquarium were ready to "throw in the sponge" and call it quits today. The rush of applicants to try the healing properties of the "magic water" developed by Curator C. W. Coates has been too much for them.

Nearly 1,000 persons suffering some form of skin disease were turned away yesterday. Their very number almost halved the normal business of the institution. During the first hour the aquarium was open the information clerk answered more than 200 telephone calls and personal inquiries. By noon, with parched lips and weary tongue, she was looking desperately around for help.

Curator Hides "Where do they all come from?" she moaned.

"Well, I came all the way from Winston-Salem, N. C., when I read about this water in the paper," piped up a little old woman who hobbled up to the desk at that moment. "I've been trying for nearly fifty years to find something to fix up what's wrong with my skin. Nothing does any good. I'd sure like to try this stuff you've got."

And Curator Coates had taken refuge in his little office high up in the building behind the tanks of tropical fish.

"This thing has gotten beyond all bounds," he said in dismay. "We never intended anything like this to happen. We don't pretend to be a medical institution. This was simply an experimental thing with us. But somehow the news got out and now we are deluged."

Employ Men To Help Make Plans

City Starts Action Toward Preparing Plans For Proposed Projects

Council convened today in formal session and authorized Director of Improvements Stanley Treser to employ three additional men in the city engineer's department so that the proposed improvements, to be paid for out of Federal Recovery act funds, can be expedited.

It is necessary that plans be made for each of the proposed jobs. One field survey is already under way. The salaries will be $150, a month for one employee and $81.00 a month for each of two other employees.

Mother of Mary Gentile, aged 17, 1101 Croton avenue, last night asked the assistance of the police in locating her daughter, whom she claimed had left her home. The girl was located at a home on another street of the Croton district and taken into custody at the request of the mother. This morning the girl was turned over to the mother had made an information against her charging her with incorrigibility.

KIWANIS PARTY MOTORS TO CAMP FOR DEDICATION

'Kiwani Knoll' Now Reality At Scout Camp—Proud Troop Present

A colorful ceremony marked last night's public dedication of "Kiwani Knoll" at Camp John M. Phillips of the Boy Scouts, at which time members of the local Kiwanis club and their wives joined with the club's troop, No. 37, as a beautiful plot of ground at the camp was set apart as the official camp site for Troop 37 boys.

The dedication, featured by speeches and scout demonstrations, was the first of several which will likely follow as a result of a new camping system being invoked this year. Where scout huts heretofore were grouped together, the plan of council officers now is to separate the campers by locating huts at scattered points about the 40-acre property.

President Norman E. Clark gave the formal dedicatory talk last night, after H. N. Drio, troop committeeman and chairman of arrangements, had introduced him. Scout Howell Williams had just led the boys in their customary troop opening ceremonies.

Past President Clarence M. England, a tenderfoot scout in the troop, followed President Clark, presenting to the troop members awards and medals which they won in the field meet of north district scouts on June 14.

Mr. England also presented to the boys a flag which was raised with due ceremony. William Williams, father of two of the troop members, donated it.

Scoutmaster Dr. R. C. Lutz accepted the flag for the troop. Standing near him were Alfred Howard and Richard Herman, the troop's two assistant scoutmasters.

For the benefit of the Kiwanians who had motored to the camp, Scoutmaster Lutz had several boys demonstrate their firemen's relay performance of the June 14 field meet.

Closing the event was a campfire, around which the group gathered to enjoy scout stunts and refreshments which Mrs. H. G. Horton, wife of the county scout executive, served.

On the base of the flagpole was inscribed these words, "Kiwani Scout Troop 37—July 6, 1933." A first-class Boy Scout badge was mounted in its north corner.

Scout Executive Horton, out of the city this week, was not present. Other Camp Phillips dedications will probably occur this summer.

V. F. W. Auxiliary Plans Many Events

Meeting of the ladies' auxiliary to Harry L. McBride post No. 522, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was held last evening at the Legion Home. Mrs. Adella Evans, the president, presided.

An invitation to hold a tureen dinner at the home of Mrs. Catherine Ayers on the Harbor road was accepted. The affair will be an event of Thursday, July 13. Plans were also made for a party to be held on the lawn of the Legion Home on July 15 with Mrs. Evelyn Woods as chairman.

The auxiliary will join with the V. F. W. post in the picnic to be held July 27 at Castle beach. Mrs. Louise Evans is chairman of the auxiliary for this evening.

Mrs. Adella Evans gave a most interesting report of the state convention held at Allentown.

Delegates selected for the national convention to be held in Milwaukee in August were as follows: Mrs. Adella Evans, Mrs. Ruth Connor, Mrs. Evelyn Woods and Mrs. Tempa Stickle, with the following ladies as alternates: Mrs. Flossie Foster, Mrs. Reba LaRue, Mrs. Ada Miller and Mrs. Mary Cox.

Mrs. Twila Bolt of Sharon, department vice-president, was present and gave an interesting talk. Other visitors at the meeting were Mrs. Cecil White of Sharon and Mrs. A. Smith of New Brighton.

GOLD RUSH REPORTED ON DANUBE RIVER

(International News Service) BUDAPEST, July 7.—A moderate gold "rush" is reported on the Danube River in Hungary, according to a report from Consul General J. B. Osborne.

Several governmental, corporate and private gold-dredging operations are now operating at various points along the river dredging gold from the river bed.

The Hungarian government has stated that foreign financial groups may obtain concessions on equal terms with domestic enterprises, if they finance operations. It is possible, the report stated, that American interest experienced in location and exploitation of river gold might be interested in obtaining information from the Royal Hungarian Treasury at Budapest.

This is the machine age. The next one will be known as the pay-off-the-bonds age.

"Not so big, but pretty good for a fellow who can't fish any better than I can." Thus did Clark Gable, favorite of thousands of feminine screen fans, acknowledge his angling success in the

NEW MEXICO WILL ELECTROCUTE NEGRO

SANTA FE, N. M.,—New Mexico will witness its first "state" execution on July 21, when Tom Johnson, negro, who recently lost his appeal to the state supreme court, will be electrocuted. Previously hangings have been conducted by the counties.

The last execution in the state was in 1922. Since that time the legislature enacted a law making it the duty of the prison warden, instead of the county sheriffs, to execute condemned criminals.

Open Camp Rentz Early Next Week

Big Attendance Lively Time Looms As Season Start Nears

Camp Fred L. Rentz of the Y. M. C. A., located on the Slippery Rock creek, will open for the 1933 season on Tuesday, July 11, with one of the largest boy registrations that ever has been recorded on Y books. General Secretary R. L. Meermans said today.

When groups of campers reach the Slippery Rock camp site, out beyond Harlansburg, next week, they will find in readiness enough tents to house at least 48 boys.

During the present week a last-minute rush for registrations has boosted the prospective camp attendance above the figure which officials had at first anticipated. Numerous requests for three weeks of camp life, instead of one or two, have come.

Details of the new season, worked out by Physical Director Henry T. MacNicholas and his staff of young men counselors, were today pronounced about complete. Much time has been spent in developing a varied camp program.

Camp Rentz' 26 acres, bordering one of the most picturesque points along the Slippery Rock, was donated to the Y by the man whose name it bears several years ago. A rustic dining lodge and other buildings form part of its equipment.

Salvation Army Is Seeking $3,000

Funds Are Asked To Carry On Work For Coming Year

SOLICITATION NOW GETTING UNDER WAY

Work of the Salvation Army has been carried on during the past two years, without the receipt of money from any other than those voluntary gifts that organizations and individuals have made to it.

Now it is asking for $3,000 with which to pay its indebtedness of approximately a thousand dollars and provide funds to carry on its work during the coming year.

The question may be asked "How is it possible to operate without funds from appeal and organized charity sources for two years and why ask for funds at a time like the present?"

"A Worthy Cause"

To Whom It May Concern:

For the past two years the Salvation Army has been one of four relief organizations which have been coordinated under the head of the Mayor's Relief committee to take care of the unemployed in the city of New Castle. They have had a definite place in the mayor's relief organization and have at all times cooperated to the entire extent of their ability. They have placed at the disposal of the Mayor's Relief the personnel of their organization and have shown a deep and proper appreciation of the necessity for cooperative action in this emergency.

The Salvation Army does not derive any support from the Community Chest and is entirely dependent upon voluntary subscriptions to carry on its work.

We believe this work to be an unusually worthy one and we wish to endorse their efforts to secure the amount of money which they have set as their goal in this present campaign.

Very respectfully yours,
MRS. GRACE PHILLIPS
JOHNSON,
President Community Chest.
JAMES K. LOVE,
Chairman Mayor's Relief Committee.

Endorsement has been given the appeal of the Army not only by the mayor, the Ministerial association and the Lawrence County Emergency Relief board, but also by the respective heads of the New Castle Community Chest and Mayor's Relief committee, Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson and James K. Love.

Advance gifts are now being sought by William White, chairman of the advisory board; Ensign Fred Goddard, the officer in charge, and others of the advisory group of the Army in this city. It is hoped to report a very substantial portion of the $3,000 asked, by Saturday.

Church organizations, fraternal organizations, service groups and social organizations are urged to get behind this worthy cause and put it across.

Active solicitation of various parts of the city by organized groups of workers will get under way next week. Gifts in the form of checks will be most acceptable at this time and the checks may be made out to John D. Kennedy, local treasurer, or The Salvation Army.

COLLECT OVER 61,000 EGGS AT GAME FARM

Laying Season At Jordan Farm Draws To Close

Production Of Pheasant
Eggs Highest In History
Of Local Game Farm

PHEASANTS STILL BEING HATCHED

Gathering of pheasant eggs at the Jordan state game farm near Harlansburg has been concluded for this season. The total production of Ringneck pheasant eggs reached the record mark of 61,264—the highest in the history of the farm.

Up to this time last season the highest production on the Jordan farm was recorded with a total of 55,015 eggs. The same number of hen pheasants (1300) were placed in the laying fields both seasons.

The higher production this season is probably due to more favorable weather conditions, the birds coming through the winter in better condition and starting to lay earlier, explains Superintendent V. T. Warfel.

Thirty-one thousand and eighty-one eggs were set on the farm, of which 19,954 have completed the period of incubation, producing 14,280 pheasants, the remaining 11,255 are still in process of incubation.

The balance of the eggs were shipped to sportsmen's organizations and interested individuals who are hatching them and raising the birds for release on lands open to public hunting.

Of the young birds raised on the farm, about 2000 will be held over winter from which to select breeders, and the balance will be distributed throughout the western end of the state and released on lands open to public hunting, such distribution being handled in each county by the local state game protector.

Financial Statement Undergoing Change

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 7.—In order to present daily a more comprehensive picture of the government's financial situation, drastic changes appeared on the treasury's financial statement for July 1, which was issued Thursday.

"The principal changes are the consolidation of receipts and expenditures on account of general and special funds, the segregation of general and emergency expenditures for the fiscal year 1934, and the segregation from the departmental expenditures of expenditures relating to national defense, veterans administration, public building construction by the treasury department and rivers and harbors work," said Acting Secretary of the Treasury Dean Acheson.

The government started out its fiscal year with an excess of expenditure of $80,709,217 against $162,031,098 for July 1, 1932. However, expenditures for this year included those in connection with the R. F. C. which last year appeared as a separate item.

New Feature.
A new feature was the inclusion on the daily statement on the public debt. Last year the public debt was carried only on the last day of the month. This item for July 1 was $22,625,508.000 as compared with $19,614,785.000 the year before.

Receipts for the first day of the year were $4,364,117 as compared with $2,636,606 a year ago. The major item was $3,657,909 miscellaneous internal revenue including the tobacco, beer, sales and stamp taxes. Total general expenditures for the day were $75,782,113, against $127,503,768. A credit of $50,000,000 was made for the adjusted service certificate fund July 1 as compared with $100,000,000 last year.

Plan For Probe Of Bread Profitteering

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The department of justice today prepared to mobilize its forces for a nationwide investigation of charges of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace of alleged profiteering in bread.

Attorney General Cummings first step was to be an order to all United States district attorneys to watch closely the situation and prepare to summon grand juries for special investigation if necessary.

Ample power is given the department to prevent profiteering on the ground that the proposed processing tax justifies sharp increases in the price of bread.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

HAROLD R. McCULLOUGH County Agent SECOND BROOD FLEA BEETLES TO APPEAR

Another brood of flea beetles is due about the middle of July. This will include the small potato flea beetle, as well as the larger species. Because of the unusually heavy infestation of flea beetles in the spring this second brood is expected to be of even greater proportions, and potato growers especially are urged to watch for the appearance of the flea beetles and to spray thoroughly.

Recommendations call for the use of three pounds of calcium arsenate in 100 gallons of Bordeaux mixture. Experience has proved that unless the potato vines are covered thoroughly with the poison spray at the start of the second brood emergence tremendous damage will be done to the crop within a few days, especially along woodlands and fence rows where the larger species have had plenty of cover.

TIMELY SPRAYS PROTECT POTATOES FROM DAMAGE

Profitable potato yields depend largely on thorough spraying. Timely spraying is essential during the coming weeks to protect properly the crop from disease and other pests.

Growth is extremely rapid during the early part of the season and unless the sprays are applied at intervals of a week to ten days injuries from disease may be severe. During periods of extreme heat spray applications should be made every 5 to 7 days and a few extra pounds of lime should be added.

Standard Bordeaux mixture, in which high-grade lime and blue-stone are used, is recommended. Growers having difficulty in slaking lime usually can trace their trouble to the use of poor grade or inferior lime. A good grade of lump lime slakes with little difficulty and makes high quality Bordeaux mixture.

Complete coverage of all the foliage at each application should be the aim of spraying. This cannot be accomplished unless the spray boom is properly adjusted. It is important to rearrange the boom at timely intervals during the season to give proper spread of the nozzles as well as height of boom in relation to the growing plants.

Growers who carry out an organized spraying program, starting early in the season, need not worry about an epidemic of late blight. Those who are negligent about making applications, adjustment of spray boom or use of inferior materials have no assurance that their crops will be protected against injury or even destruction by late blight.

FIGS NEED SHADE AND WATER IN HOT WEATHER

Plenty of water and cool shade contribute to swine comfort in hot weather.

Since hogs do not possess sweat glands they cannot cool off through perspiration like most animals do. Therefore, some means must be provided to keep them cool.

Where there is no natural shade it is necessary to erect artificial shade. This can be done by putting posts in the ground and building a scaffolding or roof over them with poles about four feet from the ground. A thick covering of straw hay or corn fodder on these poles will supply a cool shade.

If the pigs root the ground and make it dusty, oil drained out of crank cases can be sprinkled on the ground to settle the dust.

An ample supply of fresh water: not only adds to the comfort of the swine, but is an important part of the ration since water is essential in the making of gains.

PACK EGGS CAREFULLY TO MAINTAIN QUALITY

All eggs should be packed with the large end upmost. Wet hen eggs are candied the visibility of the yolk is one of the factors in determining the grade.

Burns Are Fatal To Young Boy In Sewickley Hospital

Suffers Fatal Burns Despite Efforts Of Woman Neighbor In Rescue Attempt (International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 7.—A neighbor woman's heroic rescue measures and the ministrations of hospital attendants today failed to save the life of eight-year-old George Peyton.

The lad died in Sewickley Valley hospital from burns received when his home in Allepo township went up in flames. After Mrs. Elmer Ritchie, a neighbor, had carried the boy from the house, a sister, Ethel, 10, ran two miles to a grocery store at Glenfield to tell the mother, Mrs. Muriel Peyton, 27, of his injuries.

The fire which destroyed the house is believed to have been caused by an exploding oil stove.

VEGETABLES VARY IN BEST EDIBLE STAGES

Certain vegetables should be harvested long before maturity, some a short time before maturity and others when they are fully mature. While some vegetables are edible only a few days, others deteriorate very slowly.

Snap beans, lima beans, peas and sweet corn deteriorate in quality if not harvested soon after reaching edible maturity. Green onions, radishes, turnips, carrots, beets, asparagus, rhubarb, kohi rabi, parsley, leaf lettuce, spinach, kale, mustard, chard and New Zealand spinach may be harvested as soon as edible portions attain a fair size. If allowed to mature fully these crops either go to seed as in the case of salads and greens or become tough as in the case of root crops.

Peas are best when the pods are nicely filled. Snap beans should be used as soon as the desired size is reached and before strings appear or seeds enlarge. Sweet corn is sweetest as soon as the kernels are fully filled out. Cucumbers for slicing should be picked before the seeds begin to develop, and for pickles when much smaller. Summer squash should be used when immature. Melons should ripen on the vine and winter squash should mature fully. Peppers may be used when immature or allowed to mature and change color.

Constable And Nephew Attacked By Angry Crowd

Posting Of Sales Notices Infuriates Mob Of 300 Near Greensburg

(International News Service) GREENSBURG, Pa., July 7.—"Penny Auctions" loomed today for three Hempfield township homes here following an attack on Constable Samuel Linsinger, 58, of Belmont, and his nephew, Samuel Linsinger, 25, of Greensburg, as they left the premises yesterday after posting sales notices.

The Linsingers were uninjured. Tires on their automobile were slashed and the windows in the car were smashed by the infuriated mob of 300 men and women neighbors of the residents in the three houses.

Constable Linsinger said today the sale of property at the homes of F. M. Reedy, William Hull and Charles E. Smith will be held next Thursday.

Neighbors plan to bid in articles put on the block to prevent outsiders removing them.

Stowaways Are Fumes Victims

Two Stowaways On Liner President Garfield Killed By Cyanide Fumes

(International News Service)
JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 7.—Three members of the U. S. Public Health Service, one of them a doctor, today were to be arraigned on technical charges of manslaughter in connection with the death of two seamen who were suffocated aboard the steamship President Garfield at her berth here when the ship was fumigated with cyanide gas.

Those held were Dr. John J. Essex, Carl Peterson and John Cazelli. The seamen were identified as Al Signor, 35, of Brooklyn, and Chris Raima, 40, of Aix En Provence, France. The sailors were not members of the President Garfield's crew and ship officers said they had probably stowed away when the liner touched Marseilles on her last trip.

Bodies of the two were found when the crew of the liner started to unload the middle hold.

"Thumbsucking which most mothers overlook in their children, leads to deformed arches and unhealthy mouths."

Tigers - Mahoning Play Five-Five Deadlock

Mahoning Ties Score In Eighth

Tigers Fa. To Properly Support McCullough Who Fans Eleven

MAY PLAY NEXT GAME TUESDAY

Mahoning and Tigers of the west side played to a 5-5 deadlock yesterday in the third of the series for the first half championship of the Lawrence county league at Centennial field, necessitating a fourth game, probably Tuesday.

The crowd is said to have been the biggest that ever watched a game at the enclosed park. Paul McCullough pitched spectacular ball but poor support resulted in the deadlock.

Strikes Out 11. McCullough struck out 11, allowed nine hits, several of which should have been batted out, and in the fifth singled to left, scoring the Tigers' first run. Followers of the game cheered him lustily. Before he finished the game he was being loudly applauded. Steve Hutnic pitched a good game until he was forced to leave the mound owing to an injury to his flinging hand.

Mahoning essayed the role of the home team and the Tigers were right quickly. With two down Huff drew a walk and McCormick failed to catch Calipetri's high fly in front of the home plate. Huff went to third and while the Tigers were trying to put Calipetri out between first and second Huff scurried home with Mahoning's initial run.

Takes Bad Bounce. Calipetri led off with a blow to right in the fourth. It took a bad bounce, got away from Huff, and on a low throw to third to catch him Calipetri scored Mahoning's second run and Mahoning fans went wild, but their joy was short lived as the Tigers came up in the fifth with their willows greased.

Stone hit for Campbell but was thrown out at first and James flew out to center. With the ball in the same spot, with the Mahoning fans razzing him Paul McCullough singled, scoring Jackson and he drew a big cheer. With Houston and McCullough on the paths Calipetri tripled between left and center field scoring the two runners, giving the Tigers a lead, 3 to 2.

In the seventh with James up for the Tigers, he singled to right, Jackson bunted toward third, beat out the hit and James was safe on second. Houston bunted and Hutnic threw low to first and Houston was safe at first and James scored the Tigers' fourth run on the error.

Mahoning Ties Score. McCullough was thrown out, Hutnic to N. Perretta at first, and Huff flew out to center. Jackson scored after the catch, sending the Tigers' score to five. Having decided before the game to play the full nine innings a break for Mahoning came in the last of the eighth when they scored three runs and deadlocked the score.

Huff went to bat and singled a few feet off first. Stone did not go after the ball. It looked as though it would have been an easy out. Paul McCullough wound up to put the third strike across, Umpire

American Loop All-Stars Win Big Game 4 To 2

Controversy Will Continue As To Which Of Two Leagues Is Fastest

BABE RUTH HITS GRAND HOME RUN

By JOHN C. HOFFMAN

International News Service Sports Writer.

CHICAGO, July 7.—The controversy will go on, perhaps, for time immemorial, but today they have to admit, even if a little reluctantly, that the American league is a better baseball league than the National.

Tomorrow there will be new arguments and a scattering of it's and whereases, but today, after yesterday's 4 to 2 victory of the younger circuit's all-star team over a similar gathering of luminaries from the Calipetri, c. they're tipping their hats to the Ruths, the Gehrigs, the Simmonses and the Groves.

Ruth Hits Homer. Not too emphatic, perhaps, is the hat tipping, because there was but a two-run margin for the American leaguers. And 49.00 gaping customers knew it could have gone the other way. However, what they saw was convincing enough.

Temporarily at least they stopped Simmonses and Gehrigs, but there still is Babe Ruth, a little older and a little more slow of foot, and Lefty Grove, whose fast ball may not be the firebrand of yesterday, to conjure up the advantage.

It was this same lumbering hulk of a Ruth, the home run king of an era that is fast slipping away, who supplied the touch that was sufficient unto the occasion. Never a disappointment on occasions where supermen are required, the Babe rapped a four-bagger into the right field pavilion with one on in the third. And this was exactly the margin of victory.

Grove Looks Good. If not that, then perhaps it was Lefty Grove's last three innings of pitching that the American leaguers needed, or it may have been the cunning of a Connie Mack, who didn't forget to save Grove for the finish and who remembered to put Sam West in right field in the ninth so he could catch a drive by Berger.

It was not an auspicious finish for the master-minding John McGraw. No amount of thinking could have foretold that "Wild Bill" Hallahan would be just that. And old John is too old now to have taken up a bat and to have made a base hit on any one of the occasions when his men left five men dimly stranded on the base paths.

The American leaguers made only one more hit than the enemy, 9 to 8, but they made them when they counted. That will always win ball games, even games of the century.

Universals To Oppose Butler

Report Prevalent Joe Hartman May Sign With Universals

NICK BIONDI AND REIDER TO PLAY

Universals and Butler Armos will clash Saturday afternoon at Centennial field and fans who like fast baseball should get an eyeful as the local lineup is replete with the best field players in this section and the visitors is said to have collected the cream of Butler county.

It was reported last night that Joe Hartman may play with the Universals. It is not known however, just who Manager Gus Thompson will send to the mound.

If Hartman, who has been with Johnston, does sign up with the Universals it will mean that their hurling staff will be one of the sweetest a Western Pennsylvania.

The Universals have Paul McCullough, Lowers and several other good flingers and with Gus Thompson and Dabshack ready for backstop duty the U's battery should fare well with any opposing battery.

Jahey Reider will cavort at shortstop and Nick Biondi will romp in center. Saturday. The game will start at 3:30 p. m., d. s. t., and a big crowd is expected to see the game.

Blair Steel Team Forges Ahead In Golf League Race

Take Undisputed Lead In City Golf League—Reynolds, S. And M. Win Too

Blair Strip Steel and Reynolds, Summers & McCann forged ahead in the New Castle golf league race last evening, when each team was successful in making a clean sweep of its matches, played at the Muncy course. The Blair defeated the Gersons, former league leaders, while Reynolds, Summers & McCann downed Shenango Tin, both of whom were formidable foes.

In the other matches played at the Muncy course, Legion of Honor defeated East Side S. S. 3 1/2 to 2 1/2. The matches played at Castle Hills were more evenly fought. Bell Telephone and Universal Sanitary Manufacturing getting an even break with Pennsylvania R. R. and Pennsylvania Power, while Rieck-McJunin defeated The News 3 1/2 to 2 1/2.

The Reynolds, Summers & McCann team was shooting excellent golf, Frank Summers, W. M. Nunn and Roger McLeavorth all turning in scores of 89, while M. K. Gilliland turned in a 40 for the nine holes. Summers' card was the best he has had this season. Mose Mancine and Willie Grommes also had cards of 39, while Babe Clark and Charles Kay had cards of 40. Many others shot on or two points above this mark on the various teams.

The league standing follows: W. L. Blair Strip Steel 33 1/2 8 1/2 East Side S. S. 29 13 Reynolds, S. & M. 27 14 Gersons 24 18 Shenango Tin 24 18 Bell Telephone 18 23 New Castle News 17 24 Universal Sanitary 17 25 Legion of Honor 16 25 Pennsylvania R. R. 16 25 Rieck-McJunin 16 25 Pennsylvania Power 11 30 1/2

ALEX MORRISON says: Few players seem to be properly organized when it comes to playing a pitch and run shot.

The majority worry either about the carry of the ball or about the amount of roll it may get.

To control the amount of roll one must learn first of all to control the flight of the ball.

You can best do this by picking a spot where you want the ball to land, forgetting all about the roll, just giving all your attention to dropping the ball on this spot.

Of course, having in mind a spot to pitch to doesn't mean that you should forget about keeping your chin back during your swing.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Primo Carnera, looking like a million dollars in a gay tan suit, brilliant haberdashery and an expansive smile, went before Peter Olney, bankruptcy referee, Thursday and testified that he was practically broke.

His account in the Banca Commerciale Italiana he swore, contained but a trifling $66.

"How about the profits from the championship fight?" Referee Olney asked.

"I no see dat mon," Carnera said. He didn't seem worried about it. He launched into a long explanation of how the money was tied up and that his profits were contingent on another fight. No body including Primo, seemed clear about it.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

The crowd that watched the Tigers-Mahoning deadlock at Centennial field is said to have been as large, and probably larger than the crowd years ago that witnessed St. Louis beat the I. A. A., five to four.

What breaks Paul McCullough got yesterday he made for himself. He stood up like a trojan under raspberries and before the game was over a lot of those who were flinging boos at him were pulling for him.

Hutnic deserved a lot of credit. He pitched a good game until his flinging hand was injured.

Jahey Reider steps to the home plate. He announces that next week the Homestead Grays will play the Universals. It is also said that Joe Hartman who has been with Johnston will join the hurling staff of the Universals.

And did those umpires handle the game? They did. They showed a lot of pep, seemed to not hear any of the cries directed against them and when it got too dark Umpire-In-Chief Price called the game.

Announcement of the exact date and place of the fourth game will be made either Saturday or Monday in The News, according to Ed Fritz of the board of commissioners.

Pirates Hold Light Drills

Despite Two-Day Layoff Pirates Are Forced To Drill At Forbes Field

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—Welcome home from Chicago where they were honored by being called upon to play in the game between select teams of the National and American leagues, Capt. Harold "Pie" Traynor and Paul Waner today joined their Pittsburgh teammates in the overtime drills that have been the lot of the Pirates since their protracted slump.

Officially, the Bucs loafed again today, the schedule showing they are free until tomorrow when they open a series with the Philadelphia Phils with a double-header at Forbes field. While they idled, the Pirates were interested observers of the games between the Giants and Cubs, and the Dodgers and Cardinals. This for the simple reason that the outcome of these games will affect their position. If the Cubs and Dodgers win it will push Pittsburgh a little to the fore, but if they lose the home club will slip back a half-game.

Traynor appeared in "the game of the century" as a pinch-hitter for Dick Bartell, Philadelphia shortstop, and doubled in the seventh to collect one of the sparse extra-base hits made in the game. Waner replaced "Chuck" Klein, Philadelphia, in right field in the eighth but did not get a turn at bat.

Four Games On Calendar Today

Ten Clubs In Second Half Race Of Lawrence County League

FOUR SATURDAY TILTS ARRANGED

Second half of the Lawrence County League will get under way today on four different plats and four additional games will be played Saturday. Two teams drew the bye today and two Saturday.

Instead of the circuit being divided into two loops as they were in the first half the ten teams will make a straight out and out race and more interest will probably result.

During the first half the teams in each division played each other too often. In the National division Mahoning ran away from other nines. The American division race was hotly contested.

Indications are that Mahoning, Tigers, Castle Flats at Volant and Flats (a combination of Clifton and Castlewood) will play some sharp ball; likewise West Pittsburg and the other teams.

Here's the schedule for today: Volant at Bessemer; Tigers at West Pittsburg; Monarchs at P. N. A. and Mahoning at Clifton Flats.

The Saturday schedule calls for Bessemer at Orrs, P. N. A. at the Tigers, Castle Flats at Volant and the Monarchs, which is a team of colored players will play at Mahoning's field.

Stock Market Surges Onward

New Highs For Year Set By Leaders As Market Is Up 1 To 4 Points

FRESH SLUMP IN DOLLAR ABROAD

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 7.—The stock market surged forward 1 to more than 4 points to new highs for the year under the inflationary stimulus of a fresh slump in the dollar to the lowest level since this country abandoned the gold standard.

Dealings were on a tremendous scale and paralleled the biggest days seen since the boom got underway. Opening blocks ran to 10,000 shares and the ticker fell 15 minutes behind before trading was underway a half hour.

The uprush was accompanied by broad gains in bonds and commodities. Speculative rails set the pace for another buoyant bond market. Wheat was the commodity leader, jumping more than 2 cents a bushel, while cotton rose nearly 50 cents a bale. Copper was marked up to 8c, cents a pound, a new high.

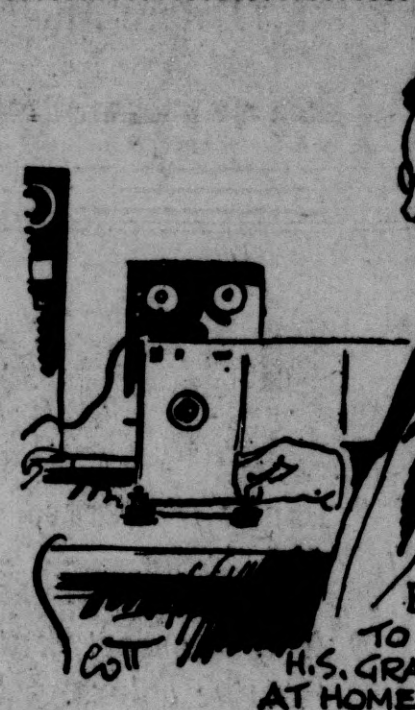

The bullish temper of the speculative community was seen at the opening when a wave of buying swept over the list. Initial gains ran to a point and more and these were considerably extended in such issues as Allied Chemical, American Telephone, N. Y. Central and the other rail.

The favorable nature of the week end trade reviews, which declared that the business revival was maintained its unprecedented pace, helped provide the bulls with further ammunition.

N. Y. Central continued to point the way for the carrier shares as the group swept into new high ground in anticipation of further gains in tomorrow's car loadings report. Strength in Consolidated Gas stimulated the utilities into an extension of yesterday's advance.

McCarthy Loses Sleep Worrying About Yankees

New York Manager Having Tough Time To Keep Yanks Near Top

TEAM MEMBERS ARE NOT HITTING

By COPELAND C. BURG International News Service Writer

NEW YORK, July 7.—If he happened to bump into Joe McCarthy, he probably wouldn't give us a tumble. And our chances of parting with his fair, thinning locks and probing into his brain to find out just what he is going on there are about as remote as Primo Carnera matching wits with Mahatma Gandhi in a game of pinch. But the fact remains that the man must be thinking about what he is going to do with his ball club.

Suppose there was some sort of gadget we could slip around Joe's head—connect it to a gadget—with a typewriter and automatically have the great manager's innermost thoughts recorded for our delight night in black and white.

New Pitches
Would the typewriter reveal such phrases as "mid-summer shakeup," "too much old timber," and "new pitchers badly needed?"

Perhaps we might put Joe's thinking machinery just at the time he is doing men's exercises on batting averages. What a headache!

Joe certainly is registering that Crosetti is hitting just .268. Combs .368 and Lazzeri .286 and he also must know Cronin of the Washington Senators is doing .368, Manuch .347, Schulte .336, Bluege .321 and Kuebel .305.

Or Joe might be puzzling about that five game series his New York Yankees open this afternoon with Detroit. Naturally he has already—in his mind—annexed the first tilt and gained back one game on the two and a half games the Yanks are behind the idle league-leading Senators.

Playing Detroit
As for the other four games—and the remaining twelve games this season in which the Yanks must face the Senators, who have taken seven of the ten games played against New York this season—?

And what about pitchers? There's Lefty Gomez, but we've forgotten the others. And they say Crosetti has a bad arm now and that Lazzeri is worried sick about the errors he made the other day when the Senators snatched a double-header.

But what the heck? Let Joe worry. That's why Jake Ruppert keeps him around.

Aimee McPherson Hutton Denies Divorce Plans

By WILLIAM PARKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright 1933, By International News Service)

PARIS, July 7.—The first story of her serious illness and how she thought she was going to die was told to International News Service Thursday by Mrs. Aimee McPherson Hutton, Los Angeles evangelist.

In the same slightly husky but appealing voice which swayed untold thousands of disciples Mrs. Hutton not only told of her operation but scoffed at rumors of a rift with her husband, David Hutton, Jr.

"It is ridiculous to say I am going to divorce Mr. Hutton," she said in an exclusive interview at the American hospital in Neuilly, just outside of Paris.

"I am wholly in love with him and would marry him again tomorrow if we were not already man and wife."

Will Not Resign
At the same time, Mrs. Hutton gave the lie to reports she was planning to give up evangelism.

"I have not the slightest thought of it," she insisted. "It is my life work. I am going to die in harness."

While she admitted she suffered terribly, Mrs. Hutton declared that the severity of her operation had been exaggerated.

"I had only one operation," she said, "and that was for an intestinal obstruction."

"I was seized with an attack while in a hotel at Lucerne, Switzerland. I thought I would not live until morning, the pain was so great."

Regarding her future plans, Mrs. Hutton revealed she was only awaiting complete recovery before starting home and resuming her work at Angelus Temple.

To Resume Work
"I intend to resume my work at the temple by Thanksgiving," she said.

Mrs. Hutton, who entered the hospital as an emergency case 21 days ago, chose a somewhat unique method of giving her first interview.

She insisted that this correspondent first ask her all the questions he wanted to know, and then proceeded to answer them "in the order of their importance."

Significantly enough, she chose one concerning rumors of a rift with her husband as the most important of all, and denied the reports with all the strength at her command.

Reports Unjust
The evangelist said that reports reaching her husband concerning her were "unjust."

Before she consented to talk to International News Service, Mrs. Hutton asked through an intermediary for a "password" when it had been given, she talked freely and frankly for twenty minutes.

"We must not talk further," she said in conclusion. Thank you for being patient with me."

Girl Scouts To Have Day Camp At Local Park

Plans About Complete For Week Of "Day Camping" Starting August 14

Something of an innovation in New Castle Girl Scout activities will be the "Day Camp" to be conducted at Cascade Park during the week of August 14.

"Day Camp" will be conducted each day from 9:00 a. m. sharp to 4:30 p. m., starting Monday, August 14. It will be open to every Girl Scout of the city; is designed to bring the advantages of camp life to every troop member who was unable to attend the regular summer camp earlier in August at Camp Phillips.

Plans for the day camp are about completed. Four Girl Scout courses will be given. They are:—

First Class Nature. (The girls will have a splendid opportunity to study nature out in the beautiful surroundings of Cascade Park.)

Mapping. (Another interesting course.)

Camp Craft. (This will give the older Scouts a great deal of knowledge of outdoor living.)

Swimming. will be a daily feature. A competent group of counselors has been chosen to take charge of each day's camping. Mrs. Sidney L. Smith is director.

The only cost to the girls will be one dime and they will bring their own lunches from their homes. The girls must have written permission to go in swimming and to participate in the hikes. Further news concerning the camp will be made in future editions of The News.

Day camp is not entirely new to New Castle, but never before has it been conducted at Cascade Park. Last year it was held at the regular summer camping grounds at Kennedy's Mills. It is believed this will be much more successful because of the accessibility of the new location.

ROAMING With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Some folks can't stand printers' ink. They'll run along the even course of their life until they do something that calls for a piece in the paper and then, bloom, they are never the same again. Once they get a taste of printers' ink they're on a diet of headlines.

It costs some of them their lives. It did this week. You may have noticed some reference to screech owls, a family of them that live out on the Butler road. After recalling that "wise old owl" paragraph we took a chance and mentioned them and now one of them is gone.

They were used to folks prowling around under the trees with flashlights and the other night one of them got out on the road to see one of those funny flashlights that came running down the road all the time. There was two of the flashlights coming down together so the owl flew between them. And that ended his screeching.

Fame is an annoying thing. After exposing the cause for the recent rains, Wilbur Chapman's washing his car, Chapple is getting offers to have him wash it again. Some of the gardeners in his district are willing to provide the hose and the water if he will just bring on another downpour.

Nick Speed is afraid that washing his car might cause a flood or perhaps a snow storm. It's been so long since it was washed that it now has a protective coating of dusting on it that hides the original color.

Claims that the last time he washed it he had an accident. He forgot to mention it to a friend of his riding with him who was smoking. The friend had to spit and assumed that the glass was down, it was so clear and you know the answer to that one.

Faith might remove mountains but it doesn't get lawns soaked by using a sprinkling can. Saw a gentleman out this morning watering a wide expanse of lawn with a small sprinkling can. An eye dropper might have been useful.

These are days when folks are signing on the dotted line. With candidates thicker than freckles on a red headed boy, it's a cinch you'll get a chance to sign somebody's.

Leslie Brindle is looking up the law about assault and battery, with a quick look at what justifies murder. Ordinarily a quiet citizen, law abiding, and tax paying, he is now in a position to shed somebody if he can lay hands on the right customer.

It all goes back to a fire cracker and a clump of rambling roses. For several years he has been endeavoring to cover a wall with the ramblers and this year was the pay off. The roses clambered down over the stones, covering their ugliness and making the air fragrant with their perfume.

He was proud of those roses. So were the neighbors. Passersby stopped to admire them, and wish they had some like them. Then came the Fourth of July, and disaster for the roses.

Some scatterbrain wanted to see if he could drop a cracker in the midst of the roses and his aim was perfect. The explosion blew off a lot of branches, and the fire ensuing burned up a lot of dry grass nearby and the roses look as though one of the Four Horsemen had been through them.

And if Brindle ever finds out just who did it, there will be some insurance policies due and payable.

Would Agree To Pay All Laborers 45 Cents Per Hour

Pittsburgh City Council Takes Measures To Correct Low Wage Scales

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 7.—Moved by reports of "sweatshop wages" paid by several contractors to common and skilled laborers on city jobs, city council Thursday decided to include provisions for a minimum wage of 45-cents per hour in all future contracts.

The 45-cent minimum would apply to laborers only, tradesmen rates to be calculated on a higher scale. Council's decision resulted from a hearing on allegations that two or more of contracting companies to whom city construction jobs had been let were paying their shovel-men, pickmen, hod-carriers, and such other unskilled workmen as low as ten cents per hour.

Sculptor Enters Violent Protest

Jules A. Meliodon, Noted Philadelphia Sculptor Aroused By Atrocities

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, July 7.—Disowning stone figures carved from his models over the doors and windows of the palatial board of education building on Philadelphia's noted parkway as "colossal atrocities," Jules A. Meliodon, the noted sculptor, today was preparing a $500,000 "art balm" suit against the Philadelphia Board of Education. Meliodon said he will charge in the suit that his work has been made the object of artistic ridicule through the arbitrary action of Irwin T. Catherine, superintendent of buildings for the board, in hiring inferior workmen to translate his models into stone.

SCHOOL FOR GUIDES
(International News Service)
PARIS.—A new school for tourist guides has just been opened by the Ministry of Public Works. The decrease in the ranks of tourists, particularly dollar-spending Americans, induced the government to take this step.

The upturn came just in time to save Mr. Ford. Reports show that he was down to his last 664 million.

Trinity Church To Close School

Rev. P. C. Pearson, rector of Trinity Episcopal church announces that by the unanimous vote of the officers and teachers of the church and the Bible school attendants, it was decided to hold no more Bible school sessions during the months of July and August, with a resumption of classes on September 10.

In case parents wish their children to have Bible instruction during the summer months the rector will arrange for this if he is called at 4554 between 10 and 11 o'clock Saturday morning.
